PROGRAM NOTES

I graduated from the University of North Alabama with a bachelors degree in music education. Being a percussionist has been such a highlight of my life and is something that truly makes me happy. When it comes to teaching and performing, my main goal is to show myself, my students, and colleagues that music can bring joy to your life and can show you how beautiful life can be. Special thanks to my friends and family for supporting me through my music journey, and Professors Chalon Ragsdale and Fernando Valencia for their help this semester on making me a more confident musician.
